The Cherubs had no difficulty in taking two more games from the Wanderers.

A crowd numbering perhaps are hundred people went out to see the double header, and at times, as the games progressed, applause was liberally given.

The home team can hardly be expected to make as good a showing when piaying against a team of half-hearted players, and they do not do so. In the ranks of the Athletics there are some excellent players, but during the present series they seem to be working under a spell, and what might have been splendid exhibitions have been really nothing better than back lots games.

Archie Stimmeil umpired both games and he endeavored to be perfectly fair. His efforts were successful, for very few kicks were registered.

The first game could have been closer, but the Cherubs held themselves in. Thornton singled and was forced to second by Socks, who was given a free pass. Elsey put out a long single, on which Thornton scored.

The second was still better. Kain hit for three bags and scored on Foster's ingle, while the latter scored on Schmidt's hit, an outfield out and a passed hall.

McDonald hit easy in the third and crossed over on Davis's error and Kain's single. Then, in the fourth, Thornton hit safe and scored on a choice and an outfield out. Again, in the sixth, Thornton was hit with a pitched bail. He went to second on F. Schaub's error and scored on hits by Elsey and Stuart.

The visitors were blanked up to the sixth. Then they made a spart, F. Schaub was given a pass, Fox hit for two and Davis fanned out. Osborne came to the rescue, however, and put the sphere out in deep centre for four bases, bringing Schaub and Fox with him. They tried to get some more runs later on, but their efforts were fruitless, and the game closed with the score below. Attendance, 590.

AN INCENDIARY SPEECH

DELIVERED IN THE ST. LOUIS LABOR CONVENTION BY DEBS,

"The Only Perfect Government is No Go ernment," Says He.-Hints at Bloodshed as a Result of Labor Troubles.

ST. LOUIS, MO., August 31.—The Committee on Resolutions of the labor leaders completed its task this morning, and at 10 o'clock the following platform was presented to the convention.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform as presented reads as fol-The platform as presented reads as follows:

"The fear of the more watchful fathers of the republic has been justified. The judiciary has become supreme. We witness a political phenomenon absolutely new in the history of the world—a republic prostrate at the feet of judges appointed to administer the laws. They acknowledge no superior on earth and their despotic deeds recall Milton's warnings to his country: Who bids a man rule over him above law may be as well a savage beast. Under the cunning form of injunctions, courts here assumed to enacteriminal laws, and after thus drawing to themselves the power of legislation have cided that the law against involuntary servitude is not violated by arresting a seaman, imprisoging him until his vessel is ready to leave port, and then forcibly putting him on beard to serve out the term of his contract; a decision under which the old fugitive slave laws may yet be revived, and striking laborers returned to the services of their masters. Having drawn to themselves all the powers of the Federal government until Congress and Presidents may act by judicial permission, the Federal judges have begun the subjugation of sovereign States, so that unless a check is put upon the usurpation in a short time no government but the despotism of Federal judiciary will exist over a portion of American society.

The GOAL MINERS STRIKE.

"The pending months." THE COAL MINERS STRIKE.

The pending strike of coal miners, starved to feebleness by their scant wages and by arduous and dangerous toil—the strike for the right to be fed enough to fake labor possible—has been proline of judicial usurpation, showing the willingness of judicial despots to resort to the most shameless defiance of decency, as well as of law, presumably in order to enable heartless avarice to drive its serfs back to the righes to faint and die at their drudgery, and there remains to-day not one guaranteed right of American citizens the exercise of which an injunction

Amendments were laid on the table to be taken up later.

Delegate Osborne, of Atlanta, Ga., offered a resolution to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting that all unemployed men in the United States should apply for admission to the poorhouse of their respective counties. No action was taken on this resolution, and the convention went off in a desultory manner regarding the debate. Mr. Clayborne, of Springfield, Mo., moved to strike out the second resolution of the platform, calling for the mass convention in Chicago.

H. M. Williams, of St. Louis, presented a substitute for Mr. Clayborne's motion to strike out the plank calling for the Chicago convention convening a labor Congress in St. Louis September 20th, Without action the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock.

At the afternoon session the third plank was amended by the use of the word "protest" before use of ballot.

"I believe the gravity of the industrial situation in this country is well understood. It is quite evident the delegates to this convention are cognizant of the fact that eivil liberty is dead in America. I have said, and say again for the last time. I have appealed to the courts for justice, and shail appeal to them no more. The A. R. U. expended forty-five thousand dollars to have the question of civil rights tested in the Supreme Courts of the United States, only to be told that we have no rights that capital was bound to respect.

"We no longer have a republic; there is not a vestige of it left. The judiciary of this country has placed a padlock on my lips, forbidden me to walk on public highways, and destroyed all of my rights. I submit because they compelled me to, I am helpless. If the people are ready to take this cause to heart and this question will then be solved. The people are ripe for a great change. All they lack is direction and leadership. Let this convention set the pace. Announce to the world that it will temporarily adjourn for three weeks, to renew preparations, ask every man to pledge himself to be there. Come if you have to walk; no man has a right to plead poverty."

will temporarily adjourn for three weeks, to renew preparations, ask every man to pledge himself to be there. Come if you have to walk; no man has a right to plead poverty."

Aif Lebs went over the conditions existing in Pennsylvania, and when he finished with that statement took up West Virginia. West Virginia, he said, had more government to the square inch than any State in the Union, and that meant less liberty.

In conclusion, Mr. Debs said: "My friends, assert yourselves: enforce your cause. Let every man who can be as good as his word stand erect."

Nearly every delegate in the convention rose to his feet and cheered the speaker. He went on:

"The significance of this movement portends new and important developments along the line of battle. I look forward to the time when people will dethrone the power that has enslaved them. The movement is marching grandly forward, and plutocracy will soon understand that slavery and despotism have no right to a place on American soil."

ANARCHISTIC.

The less government the more liberty. The only perfect government was no government at all.

It was then agreed that the basis of representation at the Chicago convention should be one delegate to each local labor organization and two from each compressional district, every man to be a wage earner. Unon motion the meeting of the Virginia Grand Lodge was set for the second Tuesday in April, in this city.

The Virginia Grand Lodge as organized last evening became a fact through a law passed at the Atlanta Convention of the order last May, which permitted the formation of grand lodges.

The Grand Lodge will have its individual constitution and by-laws to be framed and offered at the next meeting.

The organization of this Grand Lodge gives Richmond men jurisdiction over all the lodges in the State with the control of the finances and supplies.

The order is reported in fine condition, with a rapidly increasing membership. Its aims are fraternal beneficiary in character, embracing sick and death benefits to its members. It is strictly a southern order, governed by southern men, with its headquarters in Baltimore.

The Richmond lodges number the leading citizens among their members.

After the approval of the mileages of the several delegates and their reimbursement the meeting adjourned.
